DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

1. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-18 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

3. Claims 1-18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being unpatentable by Godwin et al. US. Patent No.:(6,728,269).

- a) Regarding to claim 1, Godwin et al. disclose an RF receiver (12 in Fig. 1) comprising:

an input for receiving an RF signal containing a stream of broadcast data (32 in Fig. 1), said stream of broadcast data including primary data and regional data, wherein the primary data is intended to be distributed over a broadcast area and the regional data is specific to a plurality of predetermined geographic regions of the broadcast area (Col 12, L17-52; receiving dish 32 receive all broadcasted signals and IRD 34 allow user to select one or more desirable signals.);

Art Unit: 2611

a device for selecting a user specific region (66 in Fig. 3; Col 14, L 18-32);

a decoder for acquiring the regional data from the stream of broadcast data (38 in Fig. 1; Col 12, L48-52);

a data processor for processing the regional data and the selected user specific region to obtain the regional data specific to one of the plurality of geographic regions designated for the selected user specific region (67 in Fig. 3; Col 14, L39-45); and an output for outputting the regional data specific to the one of the plurality of geographic regions pertaining to the selected user specific region (36 in Fig. 3).

b) Regarding to claim 10, Godwin et al. disclose a method of providing regional data from a stream of broadcast data to a user via an RF receiver (12 in Fig. 1), said method comprising the steps of:

receiving an RF signal containing a stream of broadcast data (32 in Fig. 1), said stream of broadcast data including primary data and regional data, wherein the primary data is intended to be distributed over a broadcast area and the regional data is specific to a plurality of predetermined geographic regions of the broadcast area (Col 12, L17-52; receiving dish 32 receive all broadcasted signals and IRD 34 allow user to select one or more desirable signals.);

receiving a selection of a user specific region (66 in Fig. 3; Col 14, L 18-32); acquiring the regional data from the stream of broadcast data (38 in Fig. 1; Col 12, L48-52); processing the regional data and the selected user specific region to obtain the regional data specific to one of the plurality of geographic regions designated for the selected user specific region (67 in Fig. 3; Col 14, L39-45); and providing the regional data specific to the one of the plurality of geographic regions pertaining to the selected user specific region as an output (36 in Fig. 3).

- c) Regarding to claims 2 and 12, Godwin et al. disclose wherein the device for selecting the user specific region comprise a user interface input (geographic identifier memory 66 may be input manually; Col 14, L25-33).
- d) Regarding to claims 3 and 11, Godwin et al. disclose wherein the RF broadcast data comprises digital data (Col 10, L58-Col 11, L14).
- e) Regarding to claims 4 and 17, Godwin et al. disclose wherein the RF receiver comprises a digital radio receiver (Col 10, L58-Col 11, L14).
- f) Regarding to claims 5 and 18, Godwin et al. disclose wherein the receiver is employed on a vehicle (Col 14, L18-24; inexplicitly disclosed).
- g) Regarding to claims 6 and 13, Godwin et al. disclose wherein the data processor processes a block of regional data having a region identifier and compares the selected user specific region to the region identifier to determine if the block of regional data pertains to the selected user specific region (Col 14, L40-45).
- h) Regarding to claims 7 and 14, Godwin et al. disclose wherein the data processor performs a de-interleaving routine to compile regional data pertaining to the selected user specific region (40 in Fig. 1; Col 12, L53-Col 13, L2).

Art Unit: 2611

- i) Regarding to claims 8 and 15, Godwin et al. disclose wherein the de-interleaving routine complies regional data from a plurality of blocks of regional data within the stream of broadcast data (40 in Fig. 1; Col 12, L53-Col 13, L2).
- j) Regarding to claim 9, Godwin et al. disclose wherein the input comprises an antenna (32 in Fig. 1).
- k) Regarding to claim 16, Godwin et al. disclose wherein the broadcast data comprises audio radio data (Col 10, L58-Col 11, L14).

Conclusion

4. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).
